

ANNOUNCEMENT

HIGHLAND COUNTY WEATHER RADIOS

The Highland County Commissioners office has weather radios available to the public at a discounted price. Highland County EMA Director, Jim Lyle, was able to obtain a large number of these radios and the county is offering them to the public at cost.

The digital radio monitors the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) severe weather/hazard alerts and can be programmed to alert specifically for Highland County. The digital panel displays an alert message and can be set to sound a siren alert or voice announcement. It comes with an AC adapter and has a battery back-up (batteries not included). The radio monitors the following Severe-Weather/Hazard Alerts:

- Tornados
- Floods
- Hurricanes
- Thunderstorms
- Hazardous Materials
- Civil Emergency
- Terrorism Warnings
- Radiological Hazard
- Nuclear Power Plant Warnings
- Amber-Missing Children Alerts
- And more

You can learn more about these radios at www.reecominc.com.

The Standard Radio is $37 (normally $60) and the radio with AM/FM is $45 (normally $70). The radios can be purchased at the Highland County Commissioners Office at 119 Governor Foraker Place, Hillsboro. For questions, please call the Commissioners Office at 393-1911 or Jim Lyle at 393-5880.
